Installation: Art must be hung by the artist; BOH project manager will assist as able and necessary. All pieces should be hung using the BOH hanging system in a way that causes no harm to the lobby walls (no holes, nails, smudges, paint removal or residue). There are some existing nails in the brick work, those may be used but not altered. Labels, price list, guest book, etc. are the responsibility of the artist/curator. Labels must be on the artwork, or a low tak tape used that will not remove paint from the wall. We kindly expect that key spaces within the lobby will be hung with your artwork to ensure a complete and thorough exhibition of your work within the space and to maintain the integrity of exhibitions overall here at Barre Opera House. Please see the Photo Addendum for specific spaces to be hung.

Insurance: The Barre Opera House does not carry insurance for the artwork shown. Artists are responsible for insurance if required.

Reception: Artist receptions are the responsibility of the artists and/or curator. Please make arrangements with the Opera House to ensure availability of lobby space for such an event. Additional rental fees may apply.

Promotion: The Barre Opera House will announce the exhibit on their social media pages and may include other media locations. We will require a bio and photos in an electronic format. A framed bio, business cards and a sign/comment book may be left on the table near the elevator during the artist scheduled exhibit.

Sales: Exhibitor (Artist) handles sales. Patron checks should be made out to the artist. We kindly ask artists for a small 15% of sales, to be paid as a donation to the Barre Opera House. We may post this donation agreement to encourage buyers; "Exhibiting artists generously donate 15% of their sales to the Barre Opera House."

Artist Donation: At the Barre Opera House, we feel the arts need to support each other. Therefore we offer this space to artists retaining a very low commission/donation on sales, 15%. Thank you.

Questions? Please contact Katie Gilmartin, Project Manager: projects@barreoperahouse.org or 476-0293.

Other details may be coordinated with Nathaniel Lew, Executive Director: exedir@barreoperahouse.org

Thank you so much for exhibiting your fine work.
